'Lots of Shabbat Lunch 2'

After the hugely successful 'Lots of Shabbat Lunch' two years ago, we are delighted to announce 'Lots of Shabbat Lunch 2' on Shabbat 19th March (Erev Purim).

To trigger your memory, participants must choose between 'hosts' who agree to host 'x' number of people for Shabbat Lunch, and 'invitees' who agree to be invited out for Shabbat Lunch. Crucially, participants will not know who will be coming or where they'll be going - during Kiddush after Shul we'll draw lots (that's the Purim link) and everyone will be allocated a place to eat.

Two years ago we had 50 participants, who all had a wonderful Shabbat Lunch. This year we want to double that!

It's great fun and a nice way of getting to meet new people, and what's more it's free! So assuming you have no other plans in place, get involved and agree to be invited out for lunch!

Let me know what you would like to do by emailing Yolanda Rosalki on yolros@gmail.com

18:59 Shabbat ends

19:25 Ma'ariv followed by General Megillah reading
19:45 Children's Megillah reading with Ari Feldman
21:45 Late Megillah reading by Rabbi Roselaar

Alei Tzion 5771 Purim Party - 19th March 2011!

This year Alei is celebrating Purim and our own walled city of LONDON: and the Events Tsevet has put together a shindig to make the Ministry of Sound look like the Ministry of Shvach. We've secured a brilliant secret venue and as well as a costume competition (theme: Tube-stations-and-everything-cool-about-them), a raffle and gameshow, there'll be an invitingly fully-stocked bar to help us fulfil our solemn halachic obligations.

Entrance is by ticket ONLY (no Agagites) - be there or be the Skverer Rebbe!

Where: to be announced when the tension reaches a crescendo - but NOT in Hendon

How much: BEFORE 9th March £10 members Tribe/shul and £15 for non-members BUT AFTER 9th March all prices go up by £5.00

For tickets contact Katie Woolf on ktwoolf987@hotmail.com
